Covington Blooper, Kubek's Error Provide Winning Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves defeated the New York Yankees 4-2 in the second game of the World Series today before 65,202 spectators and squared the series at one victory each. A two-run fourth inning broke a 2-2 tie and sent Yankee pitcher Bobby Shantz to cover. Jerry Lumpe, of Warsaw, Mo., batting for the Yankees' Ditmar in the bottom of the seventh, scored his first hit in a World Series game when he singled on the first pitch in the inning. The side was retired without a score, however.

Report Twin Is Progressing After Surgery

Girls Are Youngest To Undergo Rare Kidney Transplant

BOSTON (AP)—Doctors disclosed today they have removed the name of Delores Huskey from Peter Bent Brigham Hospital's danger list and said the 14-year-old De Soto, Mo., girl's "progress now is satisfactory" after a history-making kidney transplant operation.

The youngest—long on the verge of death—appeared to be on the road to recovery after the fifth operation of its kind in medical history—a delicate, complicated affair in which she received a kidney from her healthy, identical twin, Doris. The girls are the youngest twins ever to undergo such a transplant surgery. The operation is possible at this time only with identical twins.

Doris, the donor, is getting along fine after giving up one of her kidneys. She even had her tonsils removed recently.

Delores was rushed here unconscious in an Air Force emergency flight. She was in a coma on arrival at the hospital where all four previous successful kidney transplants between identical twins have been performed.

Doctors said a chronic disease had ruined both Delores' kidneys. Delores made a slight recovery from her debilitated condition and the doctors, eager to save her life as well as complete the transplant, transferred the organ from Doris Sept. 1.

For weeks her name remained on the danger list. Then her condition began to improve slowly. During her comatose condition, doctors said, she was utterly unaware of the passage of time and virtually unaware of persons in her room.

Today she was "up and around." The John A. Hartford Foundation of New York is paying all hospital costs as it has in previous cases and the doctors donated their services, as in the past, as a gift to medical science.

Crop, Livestock Marketings Show Rise in Missouri

WASHINGTON Oct. 3 (AP)—Missouri farmers pocketed $520,225,000 from marketings of livestock and crops in the first seven months of this year, the Agriculture Department reports. This was an increase of $5,865,000 over the corresponding period of last year.

Missouri farm income from livestock and products increased from $372,815,000 for the seven months of last year to $393,570,000 for the comparable period of this year, but receipts from crop marketings dropped from $141,545,000 to $126,655,000. Weather was blamed as a factor.

The report showed that the net income per farm in the state in 1956 amounted to $2,137, compared with $1,759 in 1955; $1,998 in 1954; $2,174 in 1953; $2,073 in 1952; $2,513 in 1951 and $2,015 in 1950.

Total gross farm income in Missouri in 1956 was reported at 1,167,400,000, including $1,036,300,000 from farm marketing; $21,000,000 from government payments; $65,200,000 the value of home consumption and $44,900,000, the gross rental value of farm dwellings.

Farm production expenses in Missouri last year, the Department said, totaled $712,200,000. Net farm income was listed as $455,200,000.

Guard Shot Brings Public Korea Display

One of Several Boys Is Killed When US Train Guard Fires

SEOUL (AP)—A U. S. Army train guard shot and killed a 15-year-old Korean boy today at Kumchon. The newspaper Chosun Ilbo immediately branded the incident "a barbarous action" and said several hundred Koreans had demonstrated, demanding the guard be turned over.

The Army identified him as Specialist 3.C. Raymond L. Bailey (Route 1) Brownsburg, Ind.

It said Song Joon Won was one of several youths found tampering with the door of a sidetracked boxcar. Bailey ordered them to halt, fired in the air, then at the ground near the fleeing youths, hitting Song. The youth died in a hospital 90 minutes later.

The newspaper said: Six students were passing by about 20 yards from the boxcar, and didn't hear Bailey shouting. They continued to walk until Song was shot.

"As news of the incident spread among Kumchon citizens," the paper continued, "hundreds of Koreans as well as bereaved family members swarmed around the station demanding the soldier be handed over to them."

'Scooter' Will Be Here

Famed Steve Canyon Will Work for CAP

The best-known Air Force officer in the world goes to work for Civil Air Patrol next month.

According to Col. Bill Padgett, commander of the Sedalia Civil Air Patrol Squadron, the officer's service record reads: Canyon, Stevenson Burton, AO 8041044, Lt. Col. USAFR. To 30,000,000 fans throughout the world he's better known as Steve Canyon, hero of the comic strip of the same name drawn by Milton Caniff.

Beginning late in October Canyon's going to be a "salesman" for CAP, the Air Force civilian auxiliary. At that time the popular comic strip, running in 607 newspapers, will initiate as part of its continuity an air search and rescue mission of Civil Air Patrol and on Nov. 3 will introduce a new character, a bright-eyed and pert young lady named Scooter McGruder, a CAP cadet. She's inspired by a real-life model, Margaret A. Kenefick who really is a CAP cadet in St. Louis, Mo. and was named "Miss Civil Air Patrol of 1957". Caniff, who is himself a CAP member, decided such a personality should be shown in her true background.

"Scooter," Col. Padgett said, "is typical of the 40,000 young men and women cadets 14 years and older now enrolled in the CAP's Youth Aviation program." He said that the Sedalia Squadron has 30 enrolled in the area. The program takes two forms: one is local CAP personnel training the cadets in basic aviation while the other is the use of accredited aviation courses in high schools using the CAP study manual as a basic text.

In the Canyon strip, the eager Scooter recruits Steve's Texas kinsman as a CAP cadet. Official at CAP headquarters think Scooter may have this same effect on other teen-agers, too.

"In this way," Col. Padgett said, "many more people than we could normally reach will learn about the work of the CAP and the advantages and training it offers both teenagers and adults."

Col. Padgett added that there are now more than 36,000 adult

Mild Weather Still In Picture for State

Union's Choices Narrow

Candidate Withdraws In Order to Give Support to Chicago Opponent of Hoffa

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Thomas L. Hickey of New York today withdrew as a candidate for the Teamster Union presidency in favor of William A. Lee of Chicago.

There were indications, too, that Thomas X. Haggerty, also of Chicago, might pull out to leave Lee as the sole opponent of James R. Hoffa, leading contender for the union's presidency.

Hoffa appeared a sure winner, but his opponents were determined to carry the convention decision for control of the giant scandal-scattered union to a record rollcall vote.

That would serve the purpose of lining up Hoffa and anti-Hoffa forces against one another for what could shape up as a big secession of the anti-Hoffa forces from the Teamsters.

Election of Hoffa almost certainly means a Teamsters Union ouster from the AFL-CIO, with secession of some Teamsters units back to the AFL-CIO. Hickey, for one, has said he will do just that.

Hickey's withdrawal statement said he has been a candidate against Hoffa because he firmly believes the union owed an obligation to its members to "restore the good name of the Teamsters Union" and keep it within the AFL-CIO.

"These objectives are shared by Vice President William Lee, a good Teamster and a good trade unionist."

With voting for new officers scheduled to start this afternoon, and Hoffa an apparent certain winner, the union faced a possible new court challenge of its convention actions because of alleged rigging of delegates.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Another Arab blast at the West—this time from Egypt—was anticipated today in the continuation of the U.N. Assembly's marathon general debate.

States Faubus Mistaken Man

President Says Arkansas Governor Does Disservice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower described Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas today as a mistaken man doing a disservice to his city and state. The President also said he sees two avenues of hope for pulling troops out of Little Rock.

In response to news conference questions, Eisenhower said two different situations could justify withdrawal of the troops now being used to enforce racial integration at Little Rock's Central High.

1. The giving of unequivocal assurances that the U. S. District Court integration order will not be obstructed and that peace and order will be maintained.

2. An actual, factual development of peaceful conditions to the extent that local police could control the situation.

Eisenhower noted further that a committee of four Southern governors still is seeking a solution.

The integration-troops issue was the dominating subject at the President's news conference. Only now and then did questions and answers diverge to other subjects.

One reporter asked whether Eisenhower feels that Faubus "really wants to put an end to the problem in Little Rock."

The President said he wouldn't want to answer that as he never tries to interpret motives of persons with whom he disagrees. He said he simply believes that Faubus is mistaken in what he is doing and is doing a disservice to his city and to his state.

Eisenhower declined to go beyond the Little Rock crisis to say whether his public pledges to support all measures necessary to uphold the courts meant that he would use troops to enforce integration elsewhere.

He said he didn't want to get into hypothetical questions, and that each case is different.

But Eisenhower said court decisions must be sustained or this is not America.

He also said that no one deplores use of troops more than he does. This, Eisenhower said, is not really American except as it becomes necessary in the support of institutions vital to this country.

The courts, Eisenhower said, are not here just to enforce integration. He said they are the bulwark, the shield against autocratic government.

If they can be defied in one respect, he went on, they can in all others and the result would be chaos or anarchy.

Geese Heading South, Early Winter Coming?

The Democrat-Capital received its first calls of the season Wednesday night on wild geese flying south for the winter.

The first call came at 7:40 p.m. from Mrs. W. J. Vaughn, Route 2, who said she heard and saw a flock going south-west.

A few minutes later Marshall Bryan, 2133 East Seventh, also reported seeing the geese and expressed the belief that Sedalia is in for an early winter.

Ex-Soda Jerk Produces Full Length Movie for $25,000

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood may be dismayed to learn that an ex-soda jerk here has made a full length movie for only $25,000.

"As a matter of fact, it cost me only $6,000 to turn out the film itself," said Everett Chambers, "The rest went for music, sound, and other expenses."

The film, "A Run Across the River," is the culmination of a four-year dream and a long uphill fight for its 31-year-old producer, who has a crew cut and looks like an Ivy League college instructor. A spy chase melodrama, filmed in semi-documentary style and featuring Greenwich Village backgrounds, it is now being shown to exhibitors.

"I don't expect it to rival 'Gone With the Wind,'" said Chambers cheerfully. "But I think it's a pretty fair 'B' grade picture—at least as good as 'I Was a Teen-Age Werewolf!'"

Behind his unusual effort is an unusual story.

Chambers, a native of Los Angeles, came here in 1949 and got a $32 a week job dishing up sandwiches in a midtown ice cream parlor. He also met and married there a hostess named Joan.

After a few acting jobs, Chambers worked his way up to a post as one of TV's top casting directors. But he saw the handwriting on the wall when live TV shows began to be replaced by film productions.

Chambers decided he had to change with the times.

"It doesn't make much sense," he said, "but you can win more of a reputation by turning out one feature length picture, good or bad, than you can by producing any number of good hour-long TV shows."

Chambers persuaded a friend, Lee Gillen, 29, to write a movie script (his first one) for the promise of a share of the profits, if any. He got a dozen actors to take roles on the same basis. The same with the cameraman.

But he still had to have some cash. Yet who would put up any real money for such a shoestring answer. The answer was easy. Nobody. Chambers, in a blue funk, was about to abandon the project when his wife suggested:

"Why don't we call up everybody we know, and ask them to put in $200 each. That will appeal to everybody, and nobody can get hurt bad."

"We got on the phone at once," said Chambers, "and in two weeks raised $6,000. Then a friend in the garment industry chipped in $7,500—and we were off."

Among Chambers' backers are his mother, his doctor, an usher, an usher, a Chinese bartender, a policeman's widow, a teacher, a secretary, and a delicatessen counterwoman—surely the most oddly assorted group ever to invest in a movie.

No salaries have been paid yet to actors, author, cameraman or technicians. Scenery and backgrounds were borrowed. Greenwich Village friends loaned their apartments for interior shots.

The city of New York also came to the rescue of a young man trying to make good the hard way. It loaned him a subway train and a fire boat. It also sent two detectives who questioned him for five hours because he hadn't obtained a permit to stage a spectacular rooftop gunfight.

"We were so short-staffed that I had to do the makeup and hair-dressing myself," said Chambers. "I even had to sew a bra into the negligee of one actress, which is a pretty unusual chore for a producer."

He figures that if he can sell the picture for $100,000 all his investors will get their money back and all salaries will be paid. That will leave him nothing for himself.

"But the experience will have been worth it," he said. "I think I've proved that even Hollywood can turn out acceptable movies for no more than $100,000 in five weeks—if they are planned well."

There has been one other result. Several of the actors already have found their work with Chambers served as a stepping stone to other jobs.

RECORD VOYAGE—The U.S. Coast Guard cutter Spar, right, is the first ship to have sailed around the North American Continent. The sturdy little ship, along with cutters Bramble, foreground, and Storrs, left, completed the first U.S. crossing of the famed Northwest Passage. The Spar began its voyage from Bristol, R.I., on May 19, 1957, and was joined by the Bramble at Panama, C.Z., May 31, and the Storrs at Seattle, Wash., on July 1. The Bramble and Storrs will continue on to their home ports after putting in with the Spar at Boston. The vessels made the 13,000-mile journey on a Navy mission to supply DEW line bases.

Don't put on even a pound of overweight after you're 23 or 24.

Get some exercise every day of your life.

Class of '47 Has Reunion

The reunion of the 1947 class of Smith-Cotton High School was attended by 154 persons, 91 being members of the class, Saturday night, Sept. 28, at Smith-Cotton cafeteria. Twenty-one states and two foreign countries, Brazil and Formosa, were represented.

The get-acquainted hour which began at 5:30 p.m., sounded like the noise in the halls of Smith-Cotton ten years ago.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hunt and L. Clayton Dickson of Kansas City. Dickson a former Smith-Cotton teacher, was senior class sponsor in '47.

Jerry Luchs, master of ceremonies, welcomed the guests and graduates. The invocation was given by Jess Fairfax and following the dinner group singing was led by Mrs. Anna Lee Bail.

Roll call of class members was called by Mrs. Gloria Cassing. Mrs. Dorothy Sims read several letters from members unable to attend. Mrs. Cassing expressed thanks in behalf of the class to Dorothy and Jerry Luchs for organizing the reunion.

The following awards were given: class member coming the longest distance, Jack Coates, Los Angeles, Calif.; member being married the longest, Mrs. Gloria Cassing; member Mr. Dixon chose as changing the least, Mrs. Billie McFarland. The original will and prophecy read by Mrs. McFarland brought laughter from everyone.

A style show, hats of tomorrow, was narrated by Mrs. Elaine Snaveley. Class members now residing in Kansas City presented a humorous skit, styled after the Dr. I.Q. program. It was conducted by Bob Meuschke, Bud Fimple and Don McCandless. Mrs. Dorothy Alexander headed the committee. Wooden nickels were given contestants with the right answers and bubble gum for the wrong answers to questions pertaining to events happening in 1947.

As Leroy VanDyke was unable to attend and sing his song, "Auctioneer," a recording of it was played.

Jerry Luchs thanked his committee which was composed of Mary Ann Bast, Margaret Thompson, Jess Fairfax, Dorothy Sims, Gloria Cassing, Billie McFarland, Roy Alexander and Elaine Snaveley.

Snake Expert Kept Record While Dying

CHICAGO (U) — The Chicago Tribune said today that Dr. Karl P. Schmidt, internationally known snake expert who died less than 24 hours after being bitten by a snake, made a detailed scientific record of the effect of the poison from the reptile.

The Tribune, which obtained the death diary, termed it one of the most unusual documents in medical history. It also said it learned a coroner's physician's findings will show Dr. Schmidt's death was caused by three cerebral hemorrhages directly attributable to the venom of the boomslang, or tree snake native to South Africa.

Dr. Schmidt, 67, who was curator emeritus of the Chicago Natural History Museum, was bitten Sept. 25 as he was examining the snake. He died less than 24 hours later.

His death account, the Tribune said, began with a description of the snake, its examination and a statement that he concluded it was a boomslang because of its characteristic behavior when it bit him on the left thumb.

The Tribune said Dr. Schmidt's associates said he made the record with no foreboding that it would be climaxed by death. He and others at the examination felt he had not gotten a lethal dose from the bite. His associates suggested that he make the record of symptoms that might develop.

"We believed the bite to be minor and without danger," said one associate. "It was from a young snake that had been in captivity for some time. Snakes tend to lose quantity and toxic quality in venom when in captivity."

He said Dr. Schmidt did not consider an antivenom serum because "at no time were the reactions apparently serious."

The Tribune said the diary covered a 15-hour period from the time he boarded a suburban train on the day he was bitten until the next morning. Associates said he believed he had recovered and was planning to return to work.

The last entry was made after breakfast Sept. 26. Associates said Dr. Schmidt apparently made no further entries because he was up and around later in the morning and had notified the museum he would be back at work the next day. Unattended by a physician, he went into a coma at 2 p. m. An inhalator squad was called, and worked to no avail. He was taken to a hospital. The coroner's record gives 3:15 p. m. as the time of death upon arrival at the hospital.

Crowd Sees Parade

ST. LOUIS (U) — The annual Veiled Prophet Parade was styled for children this year, and there were a lot of them in the crowd estimated by police at 550,000.

"Parade of the Animals" was the theme last night, and 18 floats carried huge paper mache figures ranging from a fire-breathing dragon to replicas of St. Louis zoo animals.

Miss Carol Lammert Culver, the 19-year-old Veiled Prophet queen, and her special maids of honor waved to the crowds.

The traditional parade followed by one night the crowning of the queen, an event which signals the start of the fall social season in St. Louis.

Japanese Workers Hold Americans Prisoner 3 Hours

TOKYO (U) — Japanese workers fired by the U.S. Army in a cut-back held two American civilian employees of the Army prisoner today for more than three hours.

The Americans, William Oglesby of Denver, Colo., and Walter Nebeta of Hilo, Hawaii, were released unharmed from the Japanese labor management office in Tokorozawa, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo, after local police intervened.

The pair had gone to the office to explain the dismissal of 250 employees of the Army logistic depot at Tokorozawa. The Army is reducing its labor force in Japan in connection with the withdrawal of troops now in the works.

The workers, seeking another day's employment to qualify for dismissal benefits as "permanent workers," claimed that they were told Oct. 2 they would be re-employed but that the order was rescinded the same day. Col. B. Abrams of Funston, Tex., the base commander, said they could not be taken back unless other Japanese workers were dismissed.

The Army said after Oglesby and Nebeta explained the situation to the crowd, the Americans tried to leave but were stopped. The crowd demanded that Abrams come to the office, and then that it be allowed to see him at his office. Both requests were refused.

"Oglesby was permitted to telephone, but neither he nor Nebeta were permitted to eat lunch," the Army said.

3 of Quintuplets Die After First Day; Other Two May Survive

TOULON, France (U) — Death during the night took three of the quintuplets born prematurely here yesterday.

A doctor said the chances for survival of the other two babies, Roland and Michele Christoffe, were "not too bad."

The 29-year-old mother, Mrs. Camille Christoffe, was reported doing well. The husband, 33, is a social security worker. They have been married eight years and the quint was their first born.

The two boys and three girls, born three months prematurely, ranged in weight from 2 to 2.3 pounds.

Tiny Philippe died shortly before midnight. An hour and a half later Helene died. Genevieve died at 6 a. m.

Only two sets of quint are known to have survived more than a few days — the Dionnes of Canada, born in 1934, and the Dilligents of Argentina, born in 1943.

The two boys and three girls of the Dilligents family are all flourishing. Four of the five Dionne girls are living. Emilie died three years ago.

City Officials Say Asian Flu Epidemic Has Hit New York

NEW YORK (U) — City officials say the expected Asian flu epidemic has arrived in New York, but thus far is mild and no cause for alarm.

Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, acting health commissioner, said yesterday: "The long-awaited epidemic of Asian flu has arrived. Large numbers of people are now being attacked by the Asian flu."

"The disease is behaving as anticipated. It is mild, the fever lasting about 48 hours. Many who have been stricken already have recovered."

Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, estimated that "as high as 20 per cent of our 940,000 pupils are out. . . . The proportion of our 37,000 teachers is more than 8 per cent."

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office said yesterday that 10,622 persons have applied at 15 hospitals for treatment of flu-like illness from 4 p. m. Friday until midnight Tuesday.

Panel of 125 Jurors Called to US Court For Soviet Spy Trial

NEW YORK (U) — A panel of 125 prospective jurors was called into federal court in Brooklyn for today's start of the trial of Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, alleged Soviet master spy.

Judge Mortimer W. Byers said he planned to impanel a jury and then await the pleasure of government and defense counsel for the presentation of their opening statements.

The defense sought unsuccessfully yesterday to get a stay of the trial from Judge J. Edward Lumbard of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Manhattan.

James B. Donovan, court-appointed lawyer for Abel, 55-year-old member of the Soviet secret police, argued that he was not ready to present an adequate defense.

Abel, nabbed by the FBI after an extensive investigation, was indicted Aug. 7 on charges of conspiring to transmit U.S. defense secrets to Russia.

Great-Grandfather Takes Young Bride

HERNANDO, Miss. (U) — A 76-year-old great-grandfather from Missouri married his 14-year-old sweetheart here yesterday.

The bride, the former Mary Lou Lawson of Zelma, Mo., felt it would be a happy union. "I would rather be an old man's darling than a young man's slave," she said.

Her new husband, John G. Tatro of Sturdivant, Mo., beamed. He said he has nine children, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren, but had been a lonely man since his first wife died last December.

Mary Lou was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lawson. The newlyweds said they will head back to Missouri tomorrow.

Behind The Times

VANCOUVER, B.C. (U) — The word may not have gotten around or something, but Joseph Stalin's picture is conspicuously evident on the freighter Alexander Nevsky of the Russian grain fleet which docked here this week.

The picture of the former Soviet dictator, who seems to have fallen from favor of current Russian rulers, broods over the officers' dining saloon.

Fair Weather Stays In Most of Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was cool and wet in the Northwestern part of the country and more showers fell in the Southeast but mostly pleasant weather prevailed in other sections today.

Fair weather was the outlook for the second game of the World Series in New York.

Considerably cooler air moved southward across Northwestern areas and temperatures were 10 to

Sedalian Describes Dedication Of BPWC Building in Capital

One member of the Sedalia Business and Professional Women's Club was fortunate enough to be in Washington, D.C., on the day that Sedalia's Hazel Palmer, president of the National BPWF Federation, cut the gold ribbon with the gilt scissors in dedication of the new national headquarters of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs. She was Mrs. Leo Eickhoff, who had gone to Virginia to visit her son, Leo Eickhoff, Jr., at just the right time.

It was a real thrill, Mrs. Eickhoff said, and Hazel did a wonderful job with the dedication ceremonies. There were presidents from state federations of BPWF clubs all over the nation, she said, including Miss Beulah Kirksey from Missouri. There were many dignitaries from Washington at the dedication as well as many Business and Professional Women and others.

The headquarters is a Victorian mansion which for three generations was the home of the Spencer family. It was on the market when Henry Spencer, a railroad executive, died at the age of 83. He was the father of Samuel Spencer, former commissioner of the District of Columbia. Henry Spencer inherited it from his father, Samuel Spencer, formerly a partner of J. P. Morgan.

This four-story brick structure directly across the street from the home of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, had attained all the appurtenances of fine living and lavish entertaining of the early 1900's. But the BPWF started modernizing last December.

On the day of the dedication a tall screen in the downstairs hall was covered with telegrams from governors of states congratulating the Business and Professional Women on their new home and new venture.

In addition to the club headquarters the mansion also is the group's research foundation. The two-year-old foundation is now ready to serve the public for the first time. Its purpose is to make available to interested persons a large library on the subject of women who work.

The foundation also proposes to conduct studies in this field with a view to furthering the advancement of women and improving their working conditions.

The newly transformed mansion at 2012 Massachusetts Ave., shows the mind and hand of the woman executive at work. The gracious and spaciousness of the town house of the nineties is preserved on the main floor. Here receptions and business meetings will be held.

The third and fourth floors have been transformed into modern business offices, with movable partitions and asphalt tile floors in light and airy color schemes.

The handsome parquet floors of the first floor hall, a treasure of the old house, have been highly polished and are bare of coverings that might hide their beauty. The hall paneling has been lightened with wipings of white paint to give it a limed effect.

The president's office is just to the right of the entrance, and its color plan sets the tone for the rest of the building. The old oak paneling is still on the walls, but there's a new green Tennessee marble facade for the high fireplace opposite the door.

New and nicely feminine in the way of office furnishings is the cocktail conference table arrangement to the left of the doorway. A low walnut table centers the conference chairs upholstered in a synthetic and washable leather, and there is a relaxing sofa of the same white material.

A yellow-green tweed rug covers the floor and is picked up in the draperies, which are a soft print of aqua, green, white and honey. Miss Palmer's chair, a high-backed Princeton type swivel, is one of the most unusual features of the room. Its base is sprayed to match the aqua green upholstered back, which is tufted and buttoned. The chair sits behind a boxy walnut and cherry desk.

Gold and white are the colors for executive director Rose Leibbrand's office, just across the hall from Hazel's. Rose is also from Sedalia. The walls in Rose's office are bone white and so is the mantle of the fireplace, but its brick face is painted gold, and the interior black. On the floor is a tweed gold rug and at the windows draperies of gold in an Indian fabric with a Greek key design border. Square lined lounge chairs are covered with bone white.

Rose was adamant about keeping her old desk and swivel chair, but the decorator, Hazel Smith, persuaded her to have the chair newly upholstered at least in white Naugahyde and gold grosgrain. She has hidden her unstylish but very necessary file cases in the spacious closet in the room and has her own private powder room tiled in gold and white.

The gracefully balustraded staircase leads to the room that is the pride of the BPWF. The Founder's Room at the front of the house was the grand drawing room in the Spencer family days and furnished in French style. The colors here are new blue and green and delicate French side chairs are covered with blue silk. There are French armed chairs in the groupings around the fireplace and one being? Hugh, Paul and William on either side of the fireplace are six foot tall cases laquered deep blue green to hold the BPWF's handsomely bound in white leather records of achievement.

The library is off the Founder's Room.

The third floor, given over strictly to business offices, is done in shades of green, with mist green desks keyed to the vinyl tile flooring in celadon, white and olive and the chairs are green and chrome. The window length curtains are textured green and silver.

Up on the fourth and top floor there is a light and airy look that suggests the topmost altitude. The flooring is vinyl tile of off white flecked with coral and brown, desks are sandpaper tan and coral chairs are chrometel gold and coral upholstery. The walls are deeper than off white and the draperies are a soft gold, again simple and just window length. It is on this floor that BPWF headquarters employees have their own special room, a lounge dressed in coral and walnut, with corner tables in walnut with formica tops to accommodate hot coffee cups or luncheon places from the pullman kitchen in the corner.

Sedalian Complete Navy Boot Training

Jerry L. Hanenkratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hanenkratt, 2017 East 16th, Vernon R. Means, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Means, 1706 South Marvin, and Roy G. Vaught, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vaught, 922 East Broadway, graduated from recruit training recently at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp", included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Rail Workers Draw Record Benefit Pay

Railroad employees and their families drew $678 million in retirement and survivor benefits, and $133 million in unemployment and sickness benefits during the fiscal year which began July 1, 1956, and ended June 30, 1957, according to a report recently released by the Railroad Retirement Board. The amount combined—$811 million—was the largest ever paid in any fiscal year under the Railroad Retirement and Unemployment Insurance Acts.

The benefit payments under the Railroad Retirement Act were $77 million higher than in the preceding year. The $678 million received by retired employees and their wives and the families of deceased employees during 1956-57, brought to $5.6 billion the total amount drawn by beneficiaries since benefits were first paid in July 1936.

Of the amount paid out in 1956-57, $524 million went to 493,000 aged and disabled employees and their wives; and $154 million was paid to 271,000 survivors of deceased employees. It is estimated that over 7,000 women drew both wives' and widows' benefits during the year.

The $133 million paid under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act during 1956-57 included $83 million to 221,000 persons who were unemployed, and $50 million to 145,000 who were sick. An estimated 16,000 employees drew both unemployment and sickness benefits during the year.

Since July 1939, when benefits first became payable under the unemployment insurance system $793 million has been paid to railroad workers who were unemployed; and since the sickness program began in July 1947, $380 million has been paid to those who were sick. This brings the total benefits paid under the unemployment

Series Brings Brief Respite From Worry

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — The World Series this time is an even more welcome relief from business worries than usual.

But by the time the new world champions are crowned, the business year will be well into its final testing period. Question marks loom larger every day run all the way from falling prices of steel and other metal scrap to what effects the attempt to put off defense hardware payments will have on industrial activity.

Also up for decision are how much Americans are going to put out in cash for Christmas spending and whether federal spending will doom hopes for tax cuts.

Weakness in farm prices worries industries and merchants catering to farm families.

The oil industry is knee deep in problems, running from the import squabble to unexpected slackening in demand.

Weakness in industrial raw materials is being watched closely. Steel and copper scrap prices have been falling. This is partly due to the failure of demand for steel and copper to pick up as hoped after the summer slackness. In the case of steel it is also partly due to the mills using more pig iron and less scrap in their mix.

Steel mills are still waiting for a rush of orders from their big customers in the auto industry. Another big steel user, the construction industry, is showing signs now of having reached a peak.

Weakness in the price of industrial raw materials used to precede declines in prices of finished goods. As of now these wholesale and retail prices still tend to rise. In the testing period ahead industry will find out if these higher prices can be made to stick.

The stock market has been reflecting all of these doubts and also the squeeze on profits. Some brokers hold that the shakeout in the market has provided some bargains that should tempt investors.

But, if the World Series brings its usual lull in stock market activity, many jangled nerves will be thankful.

Local CAP Members Attend Regional Meet

Sedalia Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol was well represented at the Regional Conference on Sept. 27-29, held at the Town House in Kansas City, Kan.

Over 400 members of the CAP attended this meeting, coming from seven states — Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota. Col. J. Orville Ladd, commander of the Missouri wing, was presented a United States flag which has been flown over the national Capitol and a regulation CAP flag as an award for having the best attendance at the conference, among the states.

Maj. Gen. Walter R. Agee, USAF, attended the entire meeting and was speaker on Sept. 29 at the closing session.

After School Snacks
School children need large quantities of food to take care of their growing needs and active life. They need quality as well as quantity to develop into strong, healthy, happy people. It seems the nearer girls and boys get to adulthood the poorer their diets. Studies recently done in Pennsylvania show that the best nourished children are three years and younger. Teenage girls tend to impose on themselves diets that make them too thin. Teenage boys and girls need the same good balanced diet that younger children need but a larger diet. They need more of everything because they are growing and developing faster in this period.

Those who plan meals for healthy teenage boys never cease to be amazed at their appetites and the amount of food they consume. But if they remember that muscle development, bone growth and general rounding out of body contours occur during the teenage period, the reason for this is apparent. The recommended allowance of calories for a boy 13-15 years of age is one-third greater than that of a moderately active man. The teenage boy needs 20 per cent more body protein than his father, and almost half again as much calcium, and 25 per cent more iron. His vitamin needs are increased too—thiamine by 25 per cent and vitamin B by 20 per cent. When all essential food groups are included in the meals there is less tendency for him to satisfy his appetite with candy, soft drinks and other sweets which give an over supply of calories and little or none of the body building essentials. Most teenagers do not get enough of all the food

Lions Are Told Of Lighting Improvements

The Sedalia Lions Club heard a talk on atomic energy by James Allen, engineer for the Missouri Public Service Co., Raytown, and also a report on local street light conditions in Sedalia by William "Bill" Rich, general manager of the MPS here in Sedalia.

The speakers were introduced by Cline Cain, program chairman. Rich spoke on the increase in street lighting in Sedalia over the past ten years, the light increase being nearly four times that of 1947.

He told of the improvements to be made in the downtown lighting, which work is expected to get underway on Wednesday Oct. 9 and to be completed by April 1, 1958. He also explained the increased and improved lighting system planned for Broadway after the street has been widened by the State Highway Department.

Allen explained briefly atom energy and its future use. He went on to explain the Missouri Public Service Co., is building a new generating plant near Sibley, Mo., which will be a steam plant. He said the boilers would be fired with coal, explaining atomic energy is not yet perfected for commercial use.

He answered questions asked by the Lions.

Guests at the meeting were Edward Ertel, of Bill Hatt, and Lion Chonley Daugherty, formerly of Fayette and who has moved to Sedalia, of Charles Huntington.

A. B. Warren, president, conducted the meeting.

Legislative Session Keeps Same Pace

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 3 (AP)—Missouri's special legislative session moved like clockwork again today as the administration plan to clear the way for sale of state building bonds whizzed along through the lawmaking routine.

House and Senate Banking Committees approved each other's bills in near record time. Neither action took more than two minutes. There was no discussion and no opposition.

The complete absence of controversy was in sharp contrast to the bitter battles that marked the windup of the regular session last May.

This time everything was set for senate passage of the House bill tomorrow morning and final adjournment at 6 o'clock tomorrow night. The Senate originally had fixed the adjournment time for noon and the House for midnight. The "compromise" was approved in the House with the consent of Senate leaders after it was decided to extend the session through the afternoon tomorrow to give time for any last minute clerical details.

As was the case yesterday, the legislators' main concern seemed to be to get through the routine in time to watch the second World Series game. Television sets were put in the House chamber and the Senate lounge in readiness for the only excitement of the day.

Both houses passed identical bills yesterday to remove the requirement that the state's building bonds must be sold at par. The vote in the House was 117-20 with a few Republicans registering a token protest, but the Senate was unanimous, 32-0.

The House bill was sent to the Senate and the Senate bill to the House. Action on the House bill is expected to be completed in the senate tomorrow, sending the revamped law to Gov. James T. Blair.

It will become effective as soon as he signs it.

Penal Study Group Calls Hearing Halt

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A special penal committee called a halt to further hearings last night and decided to turn its transcript of testimony over to Gov. James T. Blair for whatever action he desires.

For over four days the committee heard testimony giving varied opinion on the causes of unrest among prison officers.

Some blamed Col. James D. Carter, director of corrections, and some blamed Warden E. V. Nash. Others said the source of trouble was bitterness of old employees because some younger and newer men got quicker promotions.

Rep. Raymond B. Hoppfinger (D) St. Louis, chairman, said his group decided it could make no recommendations to the governor but it could supply him with all the testimony. Hoppfinger declined to say whether the committee was split on what the testimony proved, if anything.

Meanwhile, other legislative committees began setting up shop for studies between now and the 1959 legislative session.

The committee on milk processing and distributors chose Sen. Albert M. Spradling (D) of Cape Girardeau and Rep. Bernard M. Simcoe (D) of Callaway County as chairman and vice chairman, respectively. The first hearing was set for Nov. 15 to explore the possibility of switching state milk control from the Division of Health to the Department of Agriculture.

Another committee, studying the state's judicial circuits, scheduled its first hearing for Dec. 14 in St. Louis. Chairman of that group is Sen. William B. Waters (D) of Liberty.

The school patrol at Whittier School heard a talk on traffic rules and regulations with reference to those pertaining to school areas, at a meeting Wednesday afternoon. Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors was the speaker.

Chief Neighbors opened his talk by saying that he was an "old grad" from Whittier. He told them he entered the first grade at the old Southeast School, which later became Whittier.

BRAVES—Adcock lined a single past McDougald into left field. Pafko dropped a single into left field, Adcock stopping at second. Covington, after bunting foul twice, blooped a single over McDougald's head, scoring Adcock and sending Pafko to third. Pafko also scored and Covington went all the way to third when Slaughter's throw to third went through Kubek's legs and rolled into the Brave dugout. It was an error for Kubek.

Art Dittmar, a righthander, replaced Shantz.

Crandall, trying to check his swing, raised a short foul pop to Simpson.

Burdette blooped a short fly behind first but Simpson retired him with a leaping catch.

McDougald threw out Schoendienst.

Two runs, three hits, one error, one left.

Yankees—Slaughter went down swinging.

Simpson chased Aaron back to the right center field wall 407 feet away for his towering drive.

Burdette knocked down Kubek's sharp grounder and tossed him out.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH

Mathews bounced to McDougald near second, who stepped on the bag and whipped to Simpson at first for a double play.

Aaron popped to Simpson inside first.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES — Coleman walked. Dittmar, after fouling off a bunt, struck out.

Covington struck out swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

YANKEES—Mantle walked on a full count.

Berra sent a once bouncer to Adcock who fired to Logan, forcing Mantle at second.

Slaughter smashed a double inside third base, sending Berra to third.

Burdette made a bare-handed stop of Simpson's slow roller toward third and threw him out on a close play while the runners held their bases.

Schoendienst came in fast for Kubek's high hopper and threw him out on another close play.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SEVENTH
BRAVES—Crandall had to hit the dirt to get out of the way of Dittmar's first pitch. Crandall then dropped a neat bunt inside the third base line, easily beating Kubek's throw to first.

Burnette bunted inside the first base line and was out, Simpson to Coleman, covering first as Crandall took second on the sacrifice.

Coleman backed up for Schoendienst's tricky grounder and threw him out, Crandall advancing to third.

Logan filed to Slaughter.

YANKEES — Mathews threw out Coleman.

Jerry Lumpe, a lefthanded hitter, batted for Dittmar and lined Burdette's first pitch over Schoendienst's head for a single.

Bauer popped to Logan. McDougald filed to Pafko.

Building Sedalia Industrially

Sedalia may be counted among the more aggressive communities in 46 states engaged in a scramble to lure industries which are spending 37 billions a year for new plants and equipment.

An estimate has been made that these localities, including many utilities, railroads, banks and others will spend 37 million dollars this year to attract such new plants.

How competitive this commercial battle has become may be realized by considering the fact that more than 6,000 separate organizations are participating.

Sedalia's Chamber of Commerce is aware of the acceleration of this contest for industry and intends to do everything possible to keep pace with it. Consistent with this is the objective review of this community's industrial progress detailed by Leslie G. Kenyon, Missouri Division of Resources and Development, in last Sunday's Democrat.

What Sedalia has gained already must be supported, but what Sedalia lacks must be gone after, else we stand still, which is the essence of retrogression.

So the Chamber has become responsible for establishment of an Industrial Park in west Sedalia. Funds for purchase of the 30 acres were provided by the Chamber's Post War Civic Development Fund. As industrial sites are sold in the park, the proceeds will be placed in the revolving development fund for further use on other land and building projects that are anticipated. Now implementing this plan is a concerted effort by the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber to give assistance to the Industrial Development Committee by reactivating the Sedalia Improvement Association, Inc., which is a private (not tax exempt) Missouri Corporation, of which the Chamber is a principal stockholder. It has been comparatively inactive with an authorized capital of $200,000, par value $100 a share. Its assets consist of $600 in cash and note-receivable of $2,000. It is proposed that the authorized capital of this corporation be increased to $300,000 and that par value of stock be changed to $25 a share. As soon as sufficient number of new shareholders can be obtained and the necessary mechanics of the proposed changes completed then the present officers and directors will all resign. Following this a special meeting of the shareholders will be called to elect 11 directors who would immediately elect new officers to serve until the next annual election in March 1958.

Operations of this corporation, it is proposed, would remain independent of the Chamber except that it would recognize the Industrial Development Committee and the Chamber directors in the matter of acquiring land and financing of buildings suitable for types of industry which would increase payrolls for Sedalia.

There may be other methods to meet the challenge of community industrial growth, but Abe Silverman, chairman of the Industrial Development Committee, points to the successful operation of IDC's in Marshall, Jefferson City, Columbia, Springfield, Joplin, Chillicothe and St. Joseph in Missouri. There are hundreds elsewhere in the country.

Jefferson City which has two industrial corporations is currently bemoaning the fact that its initial industrial park became filled recently and needs more available land for prospects. This again reemphasizes the plight of so many communities hampered by the shortage of potential industrial sites.

Commenting on this the Jefferson City Post-Tribune opines: "The Capital City eventually will have to develop its second industrial park. With Sedalia, Columbia and hundreds of other cities in the nation already in business with such tracts, Jefferson City cannot afford to continue indefinitely without the establishment of a new industrial park."

Manifestly, then, neither can Sedalia continue indefinitely to play pinch penny with its first industrial park else it will never be filled with the industrial plants this community needs not only to maintain its present position, but to grow.

That is why the Chamber is currently appealing for support of its Industrial Development committee and the reactivation of the Sedalia Improvement Association, Inc., stock subscriptions toward which can be made at any time now at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Politicians Keep Refugee Issue Red Hot

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson today writing from the Arab state of Jordan discusses the explosive subject of Arab refugees.)

By DREW PEARSON

JERICHO, JORDAN—Just outside this ancient city whose walls crumbled when Joshua blew seven times on seven trumpets is one of the great festering trouble-spots of the Near East.

The city of Jericho is without walls today. It sprawls out at the northern tip of the Dead Sea, 1,300 feet below sea level, where the Jordan River pours its fresh water into a body of water that is so salty fish cannot live. For miles around, the shore is pure salt crystal.

It's not alongside the Dead Sea, stifling hot. But between Jericho and the sea is a camp of 35,000 refugees, fled from Israel during the Arab attack of 1948. They now clamor to go back. And their clamor, plus that of other refugees, constitutes the most upsetting political force in this upset part of the world.

These are the poor refugees, not the doctors, lawyers and professional men who have contributed greatly to the Arab states.

I drove out from Jericho to the camp. It is constructed of mud brick houses similar to those I helped build for Montenegrin refugees made homeless by the Austrian army after World War I. They are good houses, still standing in Yugoslavia, and those near Jericho are good houses too.

The chief difference is that these refugees don't work. The American Friends Service Committee in Yugoslavia operated on the rule: "No work, no eat." We provided work. But the Arab refugees in Jordan either can't get work, are not supplied work, or don't want to work. In Lebanon they are not permitted by law to work.

"Get the Traitor!"

An exception is Musa Alami. Near Jericho he drilled a well, struck water, started a truck farm. He raised chickens, installed a refrigeration plant, planted bananas, and soon operated a thriving business, hauling his produce to American oil company employees in Saudi Arabia.

But one day last spring, when Jordan was seething against the west, the refugees at Jericho decided to take out their vengeance on one of their own number. Storming down the road to Musa Alami's farm, yelling "get the traitor!" they destroyed his refrigeration plants, and wrung the necks of 35,000 chickens.

Thought For Today

And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning of Jerusalem.—Luke 24:47.

God forgives; forgives not capriciously, but with wise, definite, Divine prearrangement; forgives universally, on the ground of an atonement, and on the condition of repentance and faith.—R. S. Storrs.

Musa had employed at times as many as 1,200 refugees. However, he made the fatal mistake of accepting the permanency of his residence in Jordan. He had sent down new roots in his adopted country, had given up the idea of returning to Israel. This is what made him a traitor.

During the nine years the refugees have been sitting in heat and idleness at the head of the Dead Sea, they have built up a burning, passionate hate. They hate Israel and they hate Britain and the United States which have befriended Israel. Fanatic Arab leaders have used this as a weapon. Moderate Arab leaders have bowed to it because they are prisoners. Bitterness has become too strong. It was one reason the British and Glubb Pasha were kicked out of Jordan and why Jordan spent three days this year celebrating the anniversary of his exit. It's also why Jordan, while accepting American arms, will not accept an American military mission to help them use those arms.

Would They Go Back?

Moderate Arab leaders will tell you privately that if the refugees were given a chance to go back to Israel, only a handful would go back. They claim, however, that Israel must make the gesture of inviting them back, in order to "save face" for the refugees.

The United Nations, meanwhile, has been doing a superhuman job of sitting on this explosive lid. Without the meagre $27 a year the UNRWA spends to keep the refugees alive they would have precipitated war by marching across the border into Israel en masse.

The UN staff is among the best in this part of the world. But they know they face superhuman political obstacles until the basic problem is solved.

There are millions of refugees in other parts of the world—from Communist Indo-China, from India and Pakistan, from Germany, Poland, and Egypt to Israel, from Hungary all over the world. In most of these cases the refugees do not return to their former homes. They are resettled.

But in the Arab countries, they have been permitted to ferment in camps for nine years as a weapon of political hate.

The River Jordan as it flows into the Dead Sea is only 50 feet wide. But in terms of progress it is 500 years wide.

When the prophet Joshua crossed the Jordan in the days when the walls of Jericho were still standing he was endowed with the divine power to make the Jordan stand still.

I could not help but think as I crossed the Jordan that if the 35,000 refugees sitting in the heat of Jericho had worked at it, they too could have made the River Jordan stand still. In nine years they could have turned a great irrigation project which would have bled the barren wastes around them into green fields. Instead they have sat in bitterness and filth while the fresh waters of the Jordan continue flowing into the brine of the Dead Sea.

He Leaves Hating Nobody

Charles Wilson Returns to Private Life

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles E. Wilson goes back to private life a happy man, hating nobody and satisfied he has helped make his country stronger.

The former General Motors head steps out as secretary of defense next week. He held a farewell news conference yesterday and—well, it would be safe to say he was in top form: half hard-headed businessman, half pixie. Its a combination Washington long ago learned to love and respect.

"I have," said Wilson at the outset, "a special guest today." He indicated a gray-haired woman in a chic polka-dot outfit with a black hat. "That's Jessie," said the secretary of defense, by way of introducing his wife. Then he added, somewhat apprehensively: "I didn't quite get a commitment from Mrs. Wilson that she would not ask any questions."

She did ask one, as it developed. She answered a couple too. Charlie Wilson had a costar in his last appearance before the capital press corps, and they both enjoyed themselves hugely.

Mostly, the questions and answers were serious — about such things as missiles and military spending. But Wilson, as always, was willing to talk about almost anything — from segregation to goony birds.

Segregation? "I went to school about 90 years ago with a little colored boy," he said reflectively, "and it didn't hurt me any. . . . I do remember he wasn't the dumbest boy in the class."

"Who was?" a newsman inquired.

Wilson joined in the laughter but declined the implied nomination.

"Mr. Wilson," another voice then piped up, "have you ever used the goony bird story on these people?"

That was Mrs. Wilson. She won fame on her own hook in Washington by chiding President Eisenhower when the President seemed to be rapping her husband gently on the knuckles some months ago. She was just as irrepressible yesterday. Her husband grinned fondly.

Kind of a family joke, he explained. After he got back from Korea with President-elect Eisenhower in 1952 he was asked all sorts of questions he didn't want to answer. His stock technique was to start talking about the goony birds he saw at Midway Island, and the crazy flying dance they do.

"I will admit," Wilson added, "that at times I've dodged (reporters') questions and talked about something else. That's the goony bird treatment."

He's more famous, of course, for saying exactly what he thinks — to the point of planting his foot firmly in his mouth on occasion.

About his famous General Motors crack, for instance:

Wilson was widely quoted as telling the Senate Armed Services Committee five years ago, "What's good for General Motors is good for the country." Actually, he said, his remark was "What's good for the country is good for General Motors—and vice versa," meaning that what's bad for the country is bad for GM.

But, said Wilson reflectively, "I've never been too embarrassed over the thing stated either way." And as for the implied "big business" viewpoint: "I'm not ashamed of that either."

He said he thought the nation's defenses were in better shape than when he took over. He said he's leaving town with hatred for no one: "If I have any enemies it's their choosing—not mine."

There are plenty of people hereabouts who disagree with Wilson's defense policies. But you'd have to look hard to find anyone who dislikes him. Or his Jessie.

What They Say

WORTH WRIGHT (San Diego Union Tribune)—This is National Newspaper Week and the theme for this year's observance is "Your Newspaper Services." Millions of readers will attest to the fact that one of the important services of a newspaper is its "Want Ad" section, so aptly called "the marketplace of millions." In this vast marketplace big and little people in all walks of life buy and sell to their mutual advantage.

But the Want Ads are more than that—they fulfill ambitions and heal distress. Here's an advertisement seeking the return of a lost dog, a child's pet. It requires little imagination to sense the desolation of a home deprived of a lovable companion or to feel the happiness occasioned by its return.

A husband and wife have come to a parting of ways and he advertises that he will no longer accept the responsibility of her debts.

Those requests for part-time jobs: Are they placed by eager young people trying to finance their education or are they the plaintive hope of oldsters, trying to piece out meager annuities or pensions?

"Motoring to midwest, want someone to share driving." Here's an opportunity for travel for the lonely boy or girl with little money but a great yearning to see the hometown and loved ones again.

So it goes through the many classifications of the Want Ads—an endless variety of wants and needs, desires and dreams. They make entertaining reading for lively minds.

Learning From Gallipoli

7,000 Marines Hit Turk Beaches In Modern Way

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau
IZZETIYE, Turkey—"Gentlemen may I have your attention," the Colonel said. "The atomic bomb will be dropped in four minutes." He pointed. "In that direction, about 900 yards."

It is 6:30 a.m. atop a small hill in a valley of Turkish Thrace. Already Marine landing craft are streaming over the waters of Saros Gulf.

DEEP WATER, the largest amphibious undertaking since Korea, is well underway.

The little hill is crawling with brass. This is a NATO exercise, intended to test every capability of the 7,000 U.S. Marines participating, and to give our fellows a chance to work with our Turkish and Greek allies. Officers from France, Britain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, Norway, and the United States are present.

The atomic bomb, simulated of course, hasn't gone off. Later it is exploded for the benefit of photographers. By this time Marines of the first Battalion Task Group—each BTG is a self sufficient fighting unit—are ashore and moving on its first objective, a scrubby patch of high ground five miles from the beach.

A flock of Marine helicopters land in front of the hill. Observers, reporters and photographers troop aboard. The choppers rise on a dust storm of their making, and the entourage is borne to another hill near Izzetiyeh, a tiny village about 60 miles from the border of Bulgaria. Izzetiyeh is 15 miles from the beaches.

Ranking officers sit at tables, sipping tea ordered by Lt. Gen. Alankus Muzaffer, commander of the Turkish second corps. (Coffee is practically unobtainable in Turkey.) Last night Muzaffer held a reception at the Gelibolu officer's club. Gelibolu used to be Gallipoli, but not any more. Not if you want to get on with the Turks. A mile outside the town, on the shores of the Dardanelles is another Marine BTG. Helicopters and 1,080 men.

A briefing officer explains the Gelibolu encampment is a simulated aircraft carrier. The BTG from the simulated carrier will fly over the Gelibolu Peninsula, across Saros Gulf, and inland to Izzetiyeh, where it will seize the high ground. It will then control nearby Kesan, the only town of consequence in the area, and will cut the only all weather road between Kesan and Gelibolu. That will seal off surviving Russian forces in the beach head area and prevent their reinforcement. (In an actual operation, the helicopters and landing boats would hit at the same time. But observers couldn't witness both shows if that were done.)

Before the choppers come, a jet plants an A bomb on enemy troops in this area. This simulated bomb doesn't go off on schedule either. Jets make high straffing runs. Other jets lay a smoke screen over the road leading south. Then a pathfinder unit chutes down. The 15 pathfinders are on the ground 10 minutes after the A bomb. They mark out three landing zones for the waves of troop carrying helicopters.

The first wave of choppers, led by light prop driven planes called "choppers," suddenly appears, flying low. Two of the choppers have a jeep slung beneath them. The Marines are out and racing for the high ground. Enemy forces there have been atomized. The choppers are off again. Now another wave lands to the south of the ridge on which the observers are. The crackle of their rifles, firing blanks, becomes louder.

In about six hours the entire BTG has been transported from Gelibolu. Last night some of the fellows there had been tossing a football. For observers and officers exercises like this are fascinating enough, but for the troops they're deadly dull. And there's no leave town within miles.

Meanwhile, Marines still are hitting the beaches and moving inland. The third BTG is coming ashore now. It includes the tanks and heavy stuff of the helicopter BTG. This third BTG must punch through to the fellows at Izzetiyeh. Link-up by late afternoon is the target, but by nightfall there are nine miles to go.

But DEEP WATER is on the way to "success." One reason is the Turks. They have extended themselves to cooperate with the Marines in every sense. Another reason lies across Saros Gulf. Forty two years ago the British attempted an amphibious campaign against the Turks on Gallipoli. The effort failed. The Marines have studied the Gallipoli campaign intensively. The lessons they have learned from it—chiefly what not to do—have helped them maintain their glorious record.

For example: On Gallipoli, one landing went astray and missed its beaches. That simply couldn't happen now. The beaches of Saros Gulf today fly colored markers, green for Green Beach, and so on.

Example: On Gallipoli the British couldn't land equipment in orderly sequence. Troops there went without stuff they needed desperately, had tons of stuff they didn't need at all. The Marines, by following a LIFO shiploading system, solve this. The equipment that will be needed first on the beach is loaded last, and is first out.

The big question raised by DEEP WATER, though, is whether conventional and atomic weapons can be combined, whether an operation of this nature could succeed against an enemy with nuclear capability. That will be considered in the next column.

Theodore Roosevelt took the oath of office as president of the United States without the use of the Bible.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
God's love and compassion are the core of human tenderness. With this gift from God we understand our fellow men. We recognize their goodness as well as their faults. We love them because they need love. We help them find peace within their souls, and we find our share of peace as well.

When we are antagonistic and when we pick at the mistakes of others, we become disciples of Satan and spread destructiveness among human souls. What is more, we become suspicious of the worst. We imagine slights toward ourselves when none were intended. We become hurt because of our wayward feelings and emotions. We defeat all possibility of our own tenderness.

Let us see the good in others. Let us look for the higher potentials of our friends and even of our opponents. Only then shall we help our tenderness to grow and find the reward of love which God constantly bestows.

Yanks Claim Big Game Of Series

By TED SMITS
NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees figure they have won the big one of the World Series.

They have beaten the king of Milwaukee Braves pitchers, Warren Spahn, and they've done it with their sore-shouldered left-hander Whitey Ford.

No Yankee would claim the series in four straight, but to many it looked like a downhill slide from now on.

The first game, won 3-1, was so much a pitchers' battle that it was almost devoid of drama. There was little in the way of sparkling fielding plays, although Gil McDougald and Andy Carey made a couple of beauties for the Yankees.

Probably the emotional peak of the game came in the sixth. The Yankees entered it leading 1-0 by virtue of Jerry Coleman's single in the fifth and, after two infield outs, by Hank Bauer's resounding double to right center.

To start the sixth, Mickey Mantle fled out to Hank Aaron. Then Elston Howard, playing first for the injured Moose Skowron, cracked a single over second. Yogi Berra drew a walk, then Andy Carey's single to center scored Howard and sent Berra to third.

That brought up Coleman.

He laid down a perfect bunt along the first base line. Ernie Johnson, the Braves pitcher who had relieved Spahn after Carey's single, pounced on it and threw to first for the out as Berra scored.

Both the Yankees and the Braves agreed afterwards it was the only play he could make as Berra was almost to the plate by the time Johnson reached the ball. Some of the fans seemed to think Johnson might have tried to catch Berra, but not the rival managers, Stengel and Fred Haney of the Braves.

The Braves scored their lone run in the seventh. Wes Covington led off with a double to left. Del Crandall and pinch hitter Nippy Jones were easy outs, but Schoendienst brought Covington home with a single to center on a 3-2 pitch.

Nice Guys Win In Baseball; Take Coleman

NEW YORK (AP)—Nice guys can win too in baseball.

Take Jerry Coleman, who co-starred with Whitey Ford in the Yankees' 3-1 opening victory over Milwaukee yesterday.

They don't come any nicer than the self-effacing ex-Marine bomber pilot from Ridgewood, N.J., via San Jose, Calif.

The handsome 23-year-old second baseman scored one run, drove in another on a perfect squeeze play, and played flawlessly in the field.

It was a surprise that Jerry even got into the opening game. If he wasn't picked by Manager Casey Stengel it would have been his own fault. For who was it who groomed young Bobby Richardson to take over second for the Yankees? None other than Jerry Coleman.

Jerry calls Richardson the "best fielding second baseman in the American League."

Coleman was given the call by Casey for his hitting in the last series with Boston. Jerry, a .268 hitter this year, belted a homer against the Sox.

Although he played second fiddle mostly for Richardson, Coleman feels he's had a good year.

"For the first time in four years I accepted my utility role," said Coleman. "I stopped fighting with myself . . . worrying about winning a regular job. It's the general mental attitude I should have had four years ago."

Coleman's single and Hank Bauer's double brought in the first Yankee run in the fifth inning. In the sixth, with one out, one Yankee run in, and men on first and third, Coleman was the first man to face Ernie Johnson, who relieved starter Warren Spahn. Coleman fouled off the first pitch and then laid down a perfect bunt to the pitcher that scored Yogi Berra from third.

Coleman said his first thought was to hit away but when he saw the Milwaukee infield playing back he called coach Frank Crosetti to alert Berra that he might bunt.

"I noticed, however, that the infield had drawn closer so I forgot about the bunt," said Coleman. "After I fouled off a pitch, Crosetti flashed the bunt sign. With Johnson's pitch, Yogi broke toward the plate. For my purposes it was a perfect pitch. I had no trouble laying down the bunt and Yogi had no trouble scoring."

Hubbard High Tigers Meet Windsor Monday

The Hubbard High Tigers will meet Mercy Academy from Marshall in a football game Thursday night at Jennie Jaynes Stadium. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The C. C. Hubbard Tigers travel to Windsor Monday to meet the Windsor high school eleven. The locals took a beating at Columbia last weekend when Douglas high won the contest 18 to 0.

It was the homecoming game for the Douglas school and the team was fired up for the event with the Hubbard Tigers.

On Friday Oct. 18, the Sedalians travel to Fulton to play the Missouri School for the Deaf, then on Monday Nov. 4, the Windsor football team comes to Sedalia to play on the Jennie Jaynes Stadium against the Hubbard eleven.

Then the Tigers close their season on Nov. 13 when the team travels to Appleton City to meet the high school eleven of that place.

SCHS Cross Country Team In Training

By Stan Jones

Coach Forrest Arnall has been training his cross country team since the first week of school for the big state meet and several smaller running events during this season. Arnall says the morale of the team is above average, and his job has been lightened by the attitude of the boys who have been working out in a serious and determined manner. The coach says the boys are definitely ready to go.

The cross country team has been bucking the competition of football for popularity with both the public and the boys, but the team boasts many excellent runners. Among the boys back this year are Dick Morris, a Senior, Jim Kresse and Dick Craig, Juniors. Besides these veterans there are some promising new-comers. Among these are Clarence Underhill, Gary Siron and Cecil Ravenscraft who have made some good showings.

The big meet of the year will be the State meet at St. Louis on November 15. There will be two meets with Columbia and Marshall, and one with Jefferson City. Last year the home meets were run on the mile track at the Fair Grounds. This year the home meets will be held there or at Washington Park.

This weekend the team will travel to Kansas City to engage in large meets with about ten other teams. This will be their first encounter of the season.

One dark note is the fact that one of last year's outstanding runners will not be able to participate this year due to a slight back injury received during the Summer. He is Dennis Houk, who also runs a fast half mile during the regular track season.

This is a little heard of sport, but one of which the Smith-Cottonites are justly proud, and for whom they wish just as much success as the more publicized athletic contestants.

Don Cooper Wins Marshal "B" Car Race

Don Cooper, of the Cole-Cooper Electric Co., pilot of the Sedalia modified stock car gave his competitors a lesson in handling the cars on the high banks of the quarter-mile track of Sportsman's Speedway at Marshall. Cooper outran 11 other drivers in the B-Feature event to win his first such race on the Marshall oval this season.

He informs other drivers he is to be reckoned with in the three championship races to be run the next three Sunday afternoons. Cooper recently completed a new modified car, a sleek red Mercury, number 12, and since he has been piloting it on area tracks has been giving the other drivers real trouble. The victory was the second this season, having won the championship at Warrensburg recently.

Other drivers from Sedalia that will give the point leaders plenty of trouble in the final three races will include Henry Powell of Warsaw, Sonny Robertson of Windsor, and Johnny Blaine of Sedalia.

The three championship races will start at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoons and track manager, Jr. Copas, says the main events will go 50, 75, and 100 laps. Copas also announced a special feature for this Sunday's races. Bill Bridge of Grand Junction, Colorado is starting in his chosen profession of dare-devil and has asked Copas to let him execute his 2nd crash through fire during Sunday's program. The young lad will sit on the front of an automobile that will be crashed through a flaming board wall.

A feature of the October 13th races will be a Powder Puff Derby open to all women over 21 years of age. It'll be the second Powder Puff Derby since Sportsman Speedway started in Marshall four years ago.

Shot By Duck

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—When Bill Jordan of Richmond showed up with a .22 calibre bullet wound in his heel after a deer hunt, he was asked how it happened. His story:

Got lost in the woods before dawn. Came to a creek. Two ducks got up. Fired with buck shot, downing one. Duck, which showed no injuries, was placed in hunting coat pocket. Took up deer stand. Saw nice buck approaching. Hugged a tree. Duck began fluttering wildly. Buck took off. Fired and missed. Cartridge in coat apparently fired by duck's bill lodged in heel.

Casey Stengel Chirps Over His 'Cripples'

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel sat on the green leather couch in his office under Yankee stadium, looked up and said "Well now, I'll tell you this. That Mantle is the best damn cripple in the world, ain't he?"

It was an hour or so after his New York Yankees had beaten Milwaukee's Braves 3-1 in the first game of the World Series yesterday.

"He'll be out there in center field for the second game," said Casey, still talking about Mickey Mantle, the young man with the old legs. "Unless of course he comes up to me and says 'Case, I can't play.' But maybe that's one thing wrong with him. He always wants to play. He hardly ever asks to be taken out."

"One thing maybe you don't understand. Those shin splints of his. They don't bother him when he's running. It's when he stands there at the plate. You ever watch his face when he bats? It's horrible the way he grits and strains because of the pain."

Mantle was half of Stengel's problem in this series. The other half was Bill Skowron, his scowling first baseman, apparently lost for the rest of the series because he re-injured his back yesterday.

Before the series opened, Stengel had said "if you were to ask me, I'd say that what we do is all up to those two fellas. I'd rate this club on how Mantle and Skowron can play."

Skowron said he felt his back "go out" again as he "tried to run a little extra to beat a double play."

"Look at me," he snapped. "My back's more crooked now than when I hurt it the first time. The doc says I have a lot of muscle spasm on the left side. He doesn't know whether I can play or not. He didn't say I was out for the rest of the series."

But I'll tell you this. It hurts something awful just standing here."

St. Paul Battler May Have Hard Time Holding No. 10 Rank

CHICAGO (AP)—Del Flanagan, veteran St. Paul battler, may have a hard time holding his No. 10 rating in the middleweight division.

He lost a 10-round unanimous decision to unranked Yama Bahama of the West Indies in a nationally televised match at Chicago Stadium last night.

Flanagan, who has had 102 bouts and lost only 15, weaved, bobbed, danced and backtracked much of the time. There were no knock-downs.

Most of the action was packed into the sixth round when Bahama caught the circling Flanagan with a fine left hook and followed with a right smash. Flanagan staggered into the ropes but managed to stay on his feet.

Bahama, outweighing his foe 154 to 153 pounds, constantly caught him with jolting lefts as he lunged in to throw a right. Flanagan failed to land solid blows all evening.

Referee Frank Sikora scored for Bahama 49-43 under the maximum five-point system. Judge Frank McAdams had it a close 47-46 and Judge Frank Clark saw it 50-42.

Navy-Georgia Football Game May Be Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Transfer or cancellation of the Navy-Georgia Oyster Bowl football game scheduled for Norfolk, Va., Oct. 19 was being discussed today because plans call for segregated seating of the crowd.

Top officials of the Navy meet here with the chairman of the Oyster Bowl program, to decide the fate of the game, an annual fixture since 1946.

Prompting the powwow was a request by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored people that the game be canceled unless seats are sold on a non-segregated basis to the Navy and the public alike.

The game is expected to be a sellout. Tickets are being sold in Norfolk on a segregated basis, in accordance with Virginia law. But Melvin Blasingham, Oyster Bowl program chairman, said last night, "We've never told the Naval Academy officials how they can dispose of their tickets. That's up to them."

Hunting for the "no-bite" bourbon?

Mellow-Mash Yellowstone

The Original "NO-BITE" BOURBON

"NO-BITE"

You'll find it at stores and taverns that feature this Yellowstone display.

Always one step mellowier! The reason? Yellowstone's exclusive mellow-mash process draws off only the lightest, most desirable whiskey vapors in the still—leaves the "heavy" parts behind. That's why Yellowstone is even finer than sweet-mash bourbon—even smoother than sour-mash bourbon.

Yes . . . mellow-mash Yellowstone takes more grain, more time, more money—but it gives you full bourbon flavor with truly light body.

Once you taste Yellowstone, you'll know why it's been a favorite for over 85 years . . . why it's called "the greatest American whiskey!"

Bob Martin Runs Nonstop Talent Search

By WILLIAM GLOVER
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Martin has one of television's oddest assignments — running a non-stop talent marathon.

As casting director for CBS-TV, Martin steers a weekly audition operation which gives a chance to 3,000 or so eager singers, dancers, comics and actors each year.

"GHOSTS ON LOOSE"

There is no screening process, no one to know in order to receive an invitation to the blue-walled studio where hearings are held.

"If a person has a burning desire to be heard, is persistent enough and has something to offer, he will be heard," says Martin.

That "something" need not be very remarkable.

"About two a year come by with potential star talent," estimates Bob, "and about 100 who can make a living in the entertainment business." The toughest part of the work is listening to those with lesser skills.

"The worst thing is seeing youngsters who have been given a false buildup on their abilities," he explains.

"Also, being just good is not enough. So many individuals with the wrong measurements are blessed with the right amount of talent."

For those who favorably impress Martin and his aides, introductory bits on the air are sought with Gary Moore, or on various of the early Sunday drama programs.

Among those who have come through the CBS audition room are Carol Burnett, who rocketed to success singing about John Foster Dulles and Jonathan Winters, Eva Marie Saint, Rita Gam and the late James Dean.

Any system "that just tries to bring a little order into the talent business," is susceptible to error, Martin goodnaturedly concedes.

"A few years back a young actor tried out and got one of the worst markings ever scored," he recalls. "He did all right later on though. His name was Kirk Douglas."

Find Cause for Sore Head After 2 Months

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — After two months of being a "sore head" Gale Dean Singleton now knows why—he was shot.

The 10-year-old Oklahoma City boy felt something "like a wasp sting" while playing in his front yard about Aug. 1. He fell to the ground and struck his head on the family pickup truck.

When the wound failed to heal properly the boy's parents took him to a physician, and were told to watch it closely. Weeks passed and the bump over his right eye still didn't go away, so the boy was taken to a physician again yesterday.

The doctor probed the wound, and out popped a .22-caliber slug. Mrs. W. L. Singleton, the boy's mother, said she had no idea who fired the shot, adding that it apparently caused no serious damage.

Many good cooks like to heat pans in which popovers are to be baked before adding the batter.

Mike Todd Claims Huge Film Gross

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A lesson in economics by Prof. Mike Todd, delivered on the run, you might say, since that's the way you find him.

It started at his studio office, where he spoke out the window to passing celebrities in between phone calls to France, England, Hawaii and New York.

The matter of economics arose from a printed report that his take from "Around the World in 80 Days" is $460,000 a week.

Absolutely false, he said, bristling. The figure is much too low.

"During a recent week," he declared, "the total gross for the picture was around $1,200,000. Our return from the picture never can go under 60 per cent."

"We are now open in 46 cities," Todd said, "and by Oct. 17 — a convenient date (it's the film's first anniversary)—we'll be open in 25 more. At Christmas time, it will be playing in 100 locations. The picture has closed only in two cities, and then from extraneous circumstances."

"So far the domestic take has been 16 million. On this basis, I think the estimates of a 50 million gross are in error. A hundred million is more like it."

The producer remarked that he was forced into such prosperity. When he needed $900,000 badly to finish the picture, he offered a distributor 16 per cent of the profits for a loan. The firm declined, preferring to be repaid in cash.

When Victor Young died, Todd picked up the rights to the composer's music company. The result: the "Around the World" album blossomed forth as a top seller, yielding Todd another $200,000 a year.

Todd has blown many other millions, and I asked him if he could do it again.

"I don't think so," he said as he lathered his face for a shave. "There's so much coming in now that it taxes even my ability to spend."

At this point, Liz Awoke from a nap and stumbled into the room in a short nightgown. For the record: Yes, she even looks gorgeous just awakened and with her hair in curlers.

"I'm doing my bit for the future," she commented. "I'm seeing that the money goes into diamonds, furs, etc. Things we can hock later on."

LIGHTER SIDE — Even the serious subject of Asian flu falls prey to the American habit of finding the lighter side of any problem.

A leading card manufacturer has published the one above to be sent to flu victims. The verse inside reads: "How fashionable of you. Get well soon!"

Oct. 4 Is Deadline For Winter Wheat Program in County

Pettis County farmers who have wheat allotments and are interested in taking part in the 1958 winter wheat acreage reserve program of the Soil Bank should come in to the ASC office before Oct. 4, Carl E. Johnson, office manager, said this week.

When the farmer comes in to the office, he should bring along his farm's production history, which the office needs in order to set the soil bank base for the farm. He must furnish information on the acreage of land he devoted to soil bank base crops in 1956 and 1957. Johnson said that in general, soil bank base crops are those produced for harvest, excepting hay. These include corn, wheat and other grains, annual grasses cut for seed, soybeans, and commercial vegetables.

Farmers who take part in the 1958 acreage reserve will agree to limit their harvest of these crops to a "permitted acreage." They must comply with all allotments in effect on the farm also.

The average 1958 wheat acreage reserve payment rate for Pettis County has been set at $30 per acre. Payment rates for individual farms will vary according to their productivity.

'Young Man' Finishes Motor Scooter Trip

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — When Robert A. Shurter Sr. started from Chattanooga Sept. 10 on a motor scooter for Atlantic City, he vowed nothing would prevent him from completing the trip in time for the American Legion convention parade.

Five days later, he arrived in the New Jersey city, one day ahead of schedule. Behind him were 800 miles, three wrecks, a fractured foot, wrenched neck muscles and assorted bruises.

Shurter made the return trip on his scooter in three days.

"If I had been an old man, I couldn't have taken the knocks," he said.

He is 70.

Caught Red-Handed

DETROIT (AP) — Lawrence W. Mish Jr., 31, was caught red-handed turning in a false fire alarm.

Mish, who was sentenced to 90 days in jail, was seen standing near the fire alarm box when seven pieces of fire equipment roared to the scene.

Battalion Chief James Wright said he spotted no fire but saw Mish trying to wipe red paint off his hands.

The alarm box had just been painted.

Haitians Clamor For US Visas; Fear Civil War

PORT AU PRINCE, HAITI (AP) — Hundreds of Haitians are clamoring for visas to the United States, fearing this Negro republic is at the brink of civil war.

Many even urge publicly that the U.S. Marines return to maintain order. The Marines occupied Haiti from 1915 to 1934.

The ceaseless political warfare that has unseated six governments on this Caribbean island since December has nearly paralyzed the economy.

Tourist hotels are all but deserted. Many businessmen are trying to sell out and leave.

The military junta in power since last June hopes for quick economic aid from the United States. Business leaders see little hope from this quarter, however, in view of the political turbulence.

The presidential election Sept. 22 only made matters worse. Dr. Francois Duvalier won the presidency on the basis of unofficial returns. Former Sen. Louis Dejoie, the defeated candidate, charged the election was a fraud. His backers vow blood will flow once more in the streets if Duvalier takes over the presidency Oct. 14, as expected.

Give a Novel Reason For Dry Oklahoma

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Attorneys cited a novel reason for dry Oklahoma in asking a Federal District Court here to dismiss 10 counts of a perjury indictment filed Sept. 13 by a federal grand jury against their client.

They contended that Delbert Mayberry, 40, Depew, Okla., imbibed half a pint of liquor on a doctor's orders to relieve pain caused by a disease in his left leg. The motion for dismissal said this action resulted in Mayberry's "mental faculties being somewhat affected" when he appeared before the jury.

Mayberry is scheduled to go on trial next Thursday. No date was set for hearing on the motion.

Lebanese Airliner Crashes in Flames; 29 Persons Killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A gold-carrying Lebanese airliner crashed in flames into the Mediterranean off Beirut today, killing all 29 persons aboard. The pilot was an American.

The twin-engine plane was flying for the Lebanese International Airways, which had been operating only about a week.

An airline agent said the American pilot was a Capt. Collmar, whose home town could not be learned immediately.

Four Britons reportedly were among the passengers. The airline said the others aboard were Lebanese, Syrians and Arabs from Persian Gulf areas.

Bound for Kuwait and Bahrain, the aircraft was carrying 15 boxes of gold for the Kuwait government.

Eyewitnesses said the plane burst into flames a few minutes after it took off from Beirut's International Airport. They estimated it had reached an altitude of 4,000 feet and was about 11 miles out to sea.

HELPING HAND—A quick glance at this lavishly decorated clock atop one of the buildings on the Boulevard des Italiens in Paris might give you the wrong idea. It is not an attempt at surrealism nor have the powers-that-be hired a human to turn the hands of the clock "by hand." Actually it is the long arm of a repairman trying to clean the golden hands of the massive timepiece and restore some of their ancient luster.

News Stories Are Cause For 12 Indictments

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A series of newspaper articles exposing alleged irregularities in the Jefferson County police force brought indictments against 12 persons—including the writer of the articles—yesterday.

The Jefferson County grand jury indicted the writer's city editor, a former police chief and four suspended officers.

Barry Bingham, president of the Louisville Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, called charges of knowingly receiving stolen property against his two employees fantastic.

The jury indicted writer Hank Massick and city editor John Herchendorfer, accusing them of having in their possession a receipt allegedly stolen from former Police Chief Walter R. Layman.

Photographs of the receipt appeared in the Courier-Journal with the first of a series of articles by Messick, charging Layman "paid off" a robbery-assault victim to avoid possible criminal prosecution against his son Walter R. Layman Jr. The chief resigned the next day.

The jury returned indictments against Layman; his 21-year-old son; former County Detective H. T. Gilmore; Howard A. Burkland, owner of a county subdivision; and Capt. Carlos Johns; Sgt. F. H. Zimmerman; and Patrolman Myron Marrs, all under suspension from the force.

Indicted with the younger Layman on robbery charges arising from the March 12, 1956, assault on Dolph Skaggs, 20, Vine Grove, Ky., were Kenny Sherrard, Benjie Lewis and Billy Glenn.

Marrs' indictment charged him with theft of the receipt which was shown in the newspaper.

Layman was accused of neglect of duty.

The other officers were indicted on charges of neglect of duty, taking bribes and being employed by private concerns.

Burkland was charged with drunken driving and bribing an officer.

Johns' suspension came after state troopers said Burkland was driving while under the influence of alcohol and turned him over to Johns for arrest.

However, the captain said he did not believe Burkland to be drunk and took him to his Louisville hotel rather than to jail.

Gilmore was accused of carrying $109.75 from Layman to Skaggs and Gilmore.

Messick said in a published statement he had been given the receipt by an officer, but returned it to the officer after it was photographed.

Marrs last night admitted taking the receipt, adding: "I figured it would be evidence for removing Chief Layman and starting the exposure of the whole corrupt situation in the 3rd District."

Bingham said the two newsmen had "engaged in no activity except that of being good newspapermen, faithful to community interest."

Bingham said public knowledge of the transaction between Layman and Skaggs was of prime importance because it was "designed to frustrate the normal functioning of the law by those charged with enforcing it."

Bingham said if these charges were designed to stop the paper from printing "unsavory facts," it would not work. He said his paper would continue to print matters.

Mt. Vernon Approves $150,000 Bond Issue

Two Japanese Say Girard Fired Often

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—Two Japanese farmers today accused William S. Girard of firing at three or four other Japanese shell scavengers on a firing range the day he killed Mrs. Naka Sakai.

The testimony came at a marathon court session during which the prosecution in the manslaughter trial read a statement by the Illinois soldier's Japanese wife admitting they lived together for 17 months before their marriage last July.

The appearance of the two Japanese farmers came after the prosecution tried vainly to keep them from the stand. It asked that instead the court accept statements they made during the investigation last February.

Associate prosecutor Kakuchi Sugimoto contended the statements would be more accurate because "their memories have become hazy."

Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi ruled in favor of a defense demand that the farmers testify.

"The more witnesses and testimony the prosecution introduces the better," said defense attorney Itsuro Hayashi. "Discrepancies are constantly coming up which tend to discredit the reliability of the prosecution's case."

Hayashi tangled up the two farmer witnesses, Toshizo Koyama and Tatsuo Kani, on several points but stuck to their identification of the soldier.

Koyama pointed out Girard as the soldier who shot at him, Kani, and two more scrap collectors on the firing range.

Koyama testified Girard did not shout before shooting at Hidetsugu Onozeki, one of the scrap collectors. The defense attorney got him to reverse this statement.

Girard has admitted firing the empty shell casing at the woman. He said he fired to warn the scrap collectors away and the shooting of Mrs. Sakai was an accident.

Russia Reports Return Rocket For Weather

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia is using a come-back-home weather rocket which soars up 50 miles or more, then parachutes back to land near its launching site for another trip.

The 21-foot rocket is aimed so it can usually be recovered and used again and again.

On its sky trip it records temperatures and air pressures to help forecast weather.

This rocket and all its components were described in full detail last night by Prof. A. M. Kasatkin to a conference of International Geophysical Year scientists. Weather analysis is one main IGY study.

The weeklong conference was called for reports of IGY programs to explore the upper atmosphere with rockets, and for details of Soviet and American plans to launch baby moon satellites into outer space.

Soviet reports on moon plans have so far been couched in general terms, but Kasatkin presented a fully detailed report on all aspects of the weather rocket used for the last six years.

Its nose contains weather-sensing instruments. The nose is shot away by explosive bolts when the rocket reaches a 50-mile height. Both the nose and main rocket body parachute separately back to earth.

By testing winds with balloons beforehand, the rocket can be angled so the parachutes bring both parts back close to the launching site.

The parts often land within half a mile of the launching site, Kasatkin said.

Reds May Let Mindszenty Exit Hungary

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today in a dispatch from Budapest that Communist authorities might allow Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave Hungary.

Since Russian troops crushed the anti-Soviet uprising last fall, the cardinal—Hungary's Roman Catholic primate—has been a refugee in the U. S. legation in Budapest. The Hungarian rebels had liberated him from a life sentence he was serving after conviction by the Communists on treason charges.

The Times quoted Acting Premier Ferec Munnich as saying in an interview his government would be receptive to specific proposals concerning the cardinal.

The dispatch said:

"The Hungarian leader couched his hint about the cardinal in vague language but appeared to indicate that the government might be willing to allow the prelate to leave Hungary under certain circumstances which he did not define."

Munnich, a first deputy premier, is the top official in the Hungarian Communist government while Premier Janos Kadar is touring Red China.

Munnich couched his remarks about Mindszenty with attacks on the cardinal and U. S. policy. The acting premier disclosed his government should accuse the United States today of complicity in a plot to send diversionists and spies to Hungary.

Munnich charged the United States had persistently interfered in Hungary's internal affairs.

"We see in the internal life of the United States things that we don't like," he declared, "as for example the events at Little Rock. But we do not think of sending our journalists to investigate them on the spot."

Church Group Commends Ike On Race Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Council of Churches has commended President Eisenhower's handling of the Little Rock school integration crisis, and praised Christian forces in the Arkansas city for "standing up for justice, law and self-discipline."

The commendation of the President came near the end of a meeting yesterday of the council's general board, its interim governing body.

Early in the session, the commendation was delayed by a proposal that "some Southern governors" also be commended. This suggestion was tabled by the meeting and may be offered for consideration today.

Eisenhower was lauded for "upholding the decisions of the federal courts" on integration and for taking steps to restore law and order.

During the discussion on commending some Southern governors, the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner of Philadelphia said several Southern state chief executives "have distinguished themselves clearly from the governor (Orval Faubus) of Arkansas."

Dr. Wagner mentioned no others individually.

CHERRY PEACH MERINGUES—A treat for the family, cinch for the cook.

Meringues Top Off Meals

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

A light and pretty dessert, featuring fruit, may appeal to you to serve after a hearty main course designed for brisk fall appetites. It calls for no extra sugar and so just the sweetness of the fruit predominates.

This dessert has several inducements. The peach halves and maraschino cherries it calls for can be on hand on your pantry shelf. The cherries go into a stuffing for the peaches along with a 3-ounce package of cream cheese, lemon juice and a beaten egg white. The egg white may be one that is left over; it can be kept for about a week, ready to use, if you put it in a small jar with a tight screw-band lid and refrigerate it.

This dessert is a good one to prepare if there are weight watchers in your family, because some of the plain peach halves garnished with cherries may be served minus the filling. This double-duty service means no extra work for the cook.

Chop Casseroles Easy To Make

HEARTY HURRY-UP MEAL—Pork chops and sweet potatoes baked in sweet 'n spicy sauce.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

That favorite American team, pork chops and sweet potatoes, gets savory and attractive treatment in this casserole offering.

Currant jelly, orange juice, lemon rind and lemon juice, plus a mixture of spices are poured over the meat and potatoes and the dish is baked for about 40 minutes.

The sweet potatoes must be boiled and the chops browned before they go into the oven but neither process takes long. The ingredients for the sauce may be mixed beforehand. Keep this dish in mind as one you can put together fairly quickly when you come home late in the afternoon after shopping or that club meeting. Even though you've made it in jig time, you'll still be treating your family well!

SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

Ingredients: 4 medium-sized sweet potatoes (about 1 1/4 pounds), boiling water, 2 teaspoons salt, 4 one-half inch thick loin pork chops (about 1 pound), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, salt, pepper, 1/2 cup currant jelly, 1/2 cup orange juice, grated rind of a lemon, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger.

Method: Scrub sweet potatoes in cold water and trim off any stringy parts. Do not pare. Place in a medium-sized kettle and cover with boiling water; add 2 teaspoons salt. Bring to a boil; boil, covered, until tender throughout when pierced with a fork—about 20 minutes. Drain and peel, rinsing first with cold water to make cool enough to handle. Slice each potato in half lengthwise. Trim most of fat from around chops. In a heavy 9 or 10-inch skillet, melt the butter; add chops and brown rapidly on both sides—this will take about 5 minutes. Remove and sprinkle chops lightly with salt and pepper. To drippings in hot skillet, add currant jelly, orange juice, lemon rind, lemon juice, mustard, paprika and ginger; stir over low heat until jelly finishes melting and spices dissolve. Arrange potatoes and chops alternately in a baking dish—one that is about 9 inches in diameter, and about 2 inches deep is a good size; have chops partly propped up by potato slices. Pour hot sauce over chops and potatoes. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until chops are cooked through and sauce is partly reduced. Baste chops a few times. To test chops for doneness, cut a slit near the bone; meat should show no trace of pink. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If any of the sauce is left over, strain and refrigerate it. It will be good reheated and served with ham.

Record Peacetime Budget Has Grown, But Cuts Are Intended

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget has grown a bit bigger—to 72 billion dollars—but the administration hopes to reduce spending to 70 billions in the year ending June 30, 1959.

Budget Director Percival F. Brundage announced the economy target for next year after issuing his midyear review yesterday. It showed estimated spending for this year up by 200 million dollars from Eisenhower's January estimate, and the prospective surplus down by 300 million dollars, to 1 1/2 billions.

Those figures, covering the 1951 fiscal year that started July 1, would not justify tax reduction, Brundage told reporters, but added the following year may be better, fiscally speaking.

If enough savings are achieved and the personal income of Americans continues to rise as expected, Brundage said, Congress could consider tax relief next spring—although not to take effect until midyear or thereafter.

"I am hoping we can hold the 1959 budget to 70 billion dollars," he told a news conference.

"I don't exactly expect that, but I think every member of the administration is doing his level best."

... If Congress sticks to its economy drive, it would be very helpful.

The budget review provided this picture of federal income and outgo in the government year which is now three months old:

Spending, 72 billion dollars, as compared with the $71,800,000,000 figure which stirred a storm of congressional criticism when Eisenhower announced it in his budget message.

Receipts, 73 1/2 billion dollars, down 100 million from the January estimate, partly because of anticipated lower taxable earnings by corporations. Individual income tax receipts are expected to rise.

Surplus, 1 1/2 billion dollars, all of it destined to go into reducing the federal debt.

The comparative figures for last year—the one that ended June 30—were: expenditures $69,400,000,000; receipts 71 billion dollars; surplus $1,600,000,000.

But while the administration hailed prospects of a third consecutive balanced budget, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) called the report "a great disappointment to the vast number of people who demanded expenditure reduction earlier this year when the appropriation bills were pending."

Byrd, a frequent critic of government spending, said Congress expected the cuts it made in money bills to be reflected in this year's expenditures, despite money available from previous years.

"The failure by the President to reduce expenditures," Byrd said in a statement, "diminishes the possibility of any worthwhile tax reduction in the coming session of Congress. Tax reduction must depend upon expenditure reduction."
